

LIBRARIES WITHOUT WALLS OPENING DOORS TO WORLD-WIDE RESOURCES

The Library brings people together with the world of recorded knowledge and heritage. It provides a welcoming environment for students, staff, and community to meet, think, work, read and communicate through resources and activities that contribute to life-long learning.

An effective school library:

- Supports resource-based, constructivist learning.
- Supports development of skills such as finding, evaluating, selecting, and using texts, ideas and information.
- Supports the development of critical thinking skills (questioning, selecting, analyzing, inferring, synthesizing, and evaluating).
- Is where students can continue to acquire the joy of reading and become acquainted with their literary heritage.
